HISTORY

Our company began producing linen in 1926 in the Tuscan town of Quarra-ta, a short way from Florence, Italy. During the period of the Second World War, the company was closed but re-opened in 1951 with the successful launch of the company's production of high quality embroidered linen. Using only the most accomplished works in the field of this Tuscan tradition of embroidery, the company reintroduced beautiful embroidery styles
and designs, such as "Catherine of Medici" and the famous "Princess". This high quality work characterises the company's production even today.

In 1964, Bagni Volpi Noemi expanded considerably by opening a company on the island of Madeira, dedicated to the production of hand-embroidered articles of extreme class and beauty. The highly esteemed work carried out in Madeira specialises in embroidery styles such as intaglio work, drawn-thread work and needlepoint, and only the finest linen, silk and
cotton fabrics are used.

With a view to expanding into foreign markets and especially in the American market, we set up a new company in January 1997 called Bagni Volpi Noemi USA, which has its headquarters in Seattle. Here, we have been experimenting with new techniques on satin, quality cottons, piquet and towelling fabrics, in a bid to add a new element of creativity to our work.

Today, after more than 90 years of successful business, our company is still growing and we are now using our vast experience in the development of classic linen to launch our more modern lines. We have been able to adapt our production and styles to meet the demands of the modern markets all over the World.

As a company, we are committed to furthering the beauty and class of home furnishings. We are sure you will find the personalised designs, style and elegance of our products pure joy to behold!

COMPANY PROFILE

A Proud Objective

Our world reflects our work. We are committed to beauty and quality.

Proud when a bed set, a towel or a tablecloth is appreciated and loved by our customers. Enthusiasm, new ideas and research is part of every day work, along with treasuring in any possible way, traditional craftsmanship and our one hundred percent made in Italy reality.

We hope that you who enjoy and admire fine things for the home will share the deep sense of satisfaction with which we present our collections.

And Endless Quest

To Milan and Paris to inspect fabrics designs and colors... to noted architects to find inspiration in modern homes ad furniture designes... to world's museums for enlightenment from the past... These are just a few of the many journeys that we do to aim for quality and design of exceptional beauty for our collections. We only use the smoothest damasks, jacquards, Percales and Sateens, combined with infinite color combinations to illuminate the world's most beautiful homes.

A Rich Heritage

In every piece we make you will find the master artisan's touch. These fine linens come from the hands of italian craftsmans endowedwithexceptionaltailoringskills.Manyofthemhave severaldecades' of experience in making linens, a Tuscan tradition with time-honored methods handed down from mother to daughter.

Although their ages may differ, their most important qualification is the same: their innate ability that is the mark of the making in a luxury product. As a result embroideries are precise and expressive, feather-light and smooth, hemstitching is delicate but strong... Every piece is by nature, dedicated to those who appreciate good living.

Our company began producing linen in 1926 in the Tuscan town of Quarra-ta, a short way from Florence, Italy. During the period of the Second World War, the company was closed but re-opened in 1951 with the successful launch of the company's production of high quality embroidered linen. Using only the most accomplished works in the field of this Tuscan tradition of embroidery, the company reintroduced beautiful embroidery styles
and designs, such as "Catherine of Medici" and the famous "Princess". This high quality work characterises the company's production even today.

In 1964, Bagni Volpi Noemi expanded considerably by opening a company on the island of Madeira, dedicated to the production of hand-embroidered articles of extreme class and beauty. The highly esteemed work carried out in Madeira specialises in embroidery styles such as intaglio work, drawn-thread work and needlepoint, and only the finest
linen, silk and
cotton fabrics are used.

With a view to expanding into foreign markets and
especially in the American market, we set up a new company in January 1997 called Bagni Volpi Noemi USA, which has its headquarters in Seattle. Here, we have been experimenting with new techniques on satin, quality cottons, piquet and
towelling fabrics, in a bid to add a new element of creativity to our work.

Today, after more than 90 years of successful business, our company is still growing and we are now using our vast
experience in the development of classic linen to launch our more modern lines. We have been able to adapt our production and styles to meet the demands of the modern markets all over the World.

As a company, we are committed to furthering the beauty and class of home furnishings. We are sure you will find the personalised designs, style and elegance of our products pure joy to behold!

COMPANY PROFILE

A Proud Objective

Our world reflects our work. We are committed to beauty and quality.

Proud when a bed set, a towel or a tablecloth is appreciated and loved by our customers. Enthusiasm, new ideas and research is part of every day work, along with treasuring in any possible way, traditional craftsmanship and our one hundred percent made in Italy reality.

We hope that you who enjoy and admire fine things for the home will share the deep sense of satisfaction with which we present our collections.

And Endless Quest

To Milan and Paris to inspect fabrics designs and colors... to noted architects to find inspiration in modern homes ad furniture designes... to world's museums for enlightenment from the past... These are just a few of the many journeys that we do to aim for quality and design of exceptional beauty for our collections. We only use the smoothest damasks, jacquards, Percales and Sateens, combined with infinite color combinations to illuminate the world's most beautiful homes.

A Rich Heritage

In every piece we make you will find the master artisan's touch. These fine linens come from the hands of italian craftsmans endowedwithexceptionaltailoringskills.Manyofthemhave severaldecades' of experience in making linens, a Tuscan tradition with time-honored methods handed down from mother to daughter.

Although their ages may differ, their most important qualification is the same: their innate ability that is the mark of the making in a luxury product. As a result embroideries are precise and expressive, feather-light and smooth, hemstitching is delicate but strong... Every piece is by nature, dedicated to those who appreciate good living.

WASHING RULES

The washing rules label is stitched on the product or printed on the box for each of our items. You can find the general rules below. (Note: with the first laundering the shrinkage of about 3% - 5% is normal.)
